MILAN URBAN FOOD POLICY PACT

Launched by the City of Milan in 2015, the Milan Urban Food Policy Pact is an international agreement among cities from all over the world, committed "to develop sustainable food systems that are inclusive, resilient, safe and diverse, that provide healthy and affordable food to all people in a human rights-based framework, that minimize waste and conserve biodiversity while adapting to and mitigating impacts of climate change".

Its main aim is to support cities wishing is fostering city to city cooperation and best practices food policies exchange, to develop more sustainable urban food systems.

More than a declaration, it is a real working tool for cities. It is composed by a Framework for Action listing 37 recommended actions, clustered in 6 categories.
